SIXTH STREET PAVING CONTRACT IS AWARDED TO THOMAS ARRIGO

His Price for Work Between Crest and Meadow Avenues is $1,446.50

SEVENTH MAY BE TORN UP

Council to go in Body to Look at Street From Where There Have Been Complaints—Other Business Of Importance Received Attention.

Contractor Thomas Arrigo was awarded the contract for grading and paving Sixth street from Crest avenue to Meadow avenue at his price of $1,446.50 by council at its meeting on Tuesday evening. This, with action that may result in Seventh street being improved all over again, constituted the most important business of the meeting.

Thomas Arrigo $1,446.50.
Todd & Baker $1,525.50.
Antonio Carpanelli $1,630.50.

Council decided to take a tour of various streets today where improvement is desired. This would include Seventh street, Eighth street, Ninth street, Third street and Prospect alley.

Seventh street, it has been stated is in poor condition because of mistakes when it was first paved, owing to a peculiar slant that makes it a hard street to travel. The opinion seems to be that it will have to be torn up and repaved nearly the entire length from Lincoln avenue to Crest avenue. This will be costly.

Petitions were received for two lights, one on Prospect alley at Eighth street and the other on Prospect alley at Ninth street. The light committee was instructed to investigate.

The teamsters were represented by a delegation with a repetition of their request for improvement of Eighth and Ninth street. Council disposed of the request as it disposed of other improvement requests by deciding to take a tour over town today to look at streets on which improvement is desired. A property owner was present from Third street and Crest avenue stating that the grade there was too high. Council decided to look at this.

FORMER MONONGAHELA GIRL NEAR THE WAR ZONE

Mrs. Henry Sutman of Monongahela is in receipt of on interesting letter from her niece Contessa de Corpenetto, who accompanied her husband to Italy in June. The Count, as a captain of Italian Cavalry, was the first reservist to leave Victoria, B. C. being called home by special cable. His bride of a month, formerly Miss Florence Finsley, whose birthplace is Monongahela, returned with him and at present is with her husband at Modena, within an hour's ride of the war zone. When Captain Corpenetto goes to the front the young Contessa will go to Twun and remain with his parents, the Marchese and Marchesa Beruni.

About 60 members of the Valley Echo Commandery, Knights of Malta of Charleroi went to Washington Tuesday evening to assist in the institution of a new Knights of Malta commandery. Grand Master Charles H. Bingham, Grand Recorder John H. Hoffman, and three past grand commanders were present and in charge of the ceremonies. The degree team from Ariel Commandery No. 145 of McKeesport was in charge of the degree work in putting on two degrees. Delegations were present to attend the institution from all parts of the Monongahela valley and other points.

EVERYBODY TAKES DAY OFF IN 1915

Such is the Finding of State Department of Health in Its Investigations

PROTECTION IS FURNISHED

Figures compiled by the State Department of Health show that practically every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania has attended a fair, a picnic, camp meeting or gone to an amusement park at sometime during the summer and fall months.

Early last spring, Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon ordered an inspection of all fair grounds, picnic grounds, camp meeting groves, amusement parks and recreation camps throughout the state, in order that the patrons of these places of entertainment might be protected from faulty sanitary arrangements, impure drinking water supplies, and similar menaces to health. This work has been progressing steadily during the entire summer and up to the present time more than eight hundred inspections have been made in all parts of the state. In many instances the commissioner of health has detailed special inspectors who have been present on fair grounds, etc., to check up conditions and promptly call the attention of officials to any failure to observe the public health laws and regulations. Reports show that great improvements has been brought about.

In one instance, when the inspectors called the attention of the management of one of the larger fairs to the fact that public drinking cups were prohibited, 350,000 paper cups were immediately purchased and one handed to every individual who bought an admission ticket. Men were also stationed at the fountains to give out cups to those who desired them.

Insanitary conditions were reported on 291 of the properties inspected and orders for the abatement of these were immediately given and folow-up inspections showed that the department's orders had been complied with in every instance.

The attendance at the 259 amusement parks is estimated at more than 5,000,000 for the season. In the 83 fair grounds the official attendance record for the past year was 1,800,000. At 55 camp meeting grounds the estimated attendance was 332,000 and at 413 recreation camps 31,500 occupants were listed.

U. being concerned in its formation.

Besides her husband, who is a well known local tinner two small children survive Mrs. Hall. The body is being brought home today from Pittsburg. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later and announced.

FIREMEN MAKE GOOD TIME IN TEST RUNS

General Practice and Inspection Tuesday Night Has Good Results—Needs of the Department Are Learned

In a general practice of all companies the Charleroi fire department made splendid time Tuesday evening and several new members were given their first workout. The practice was for the purpose of establishing greater efficiency in the business of fire fighting and to give council an opportunity to inspect the hose owned by the department.

In the inspection it was learned that shortly the borough will be needing additional hose, though all the equipment was found to be in fairly good condition.

Company No. 1, with the first truck made five connections. In a run from fire house to Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue the company made a record of one minute and 10 seconds in turning on water. Company No. 2 with the chemical wagon made a run to Fourth street and McKean avenue and had connections made and water running in 4 minutes and 15 seconds.

From Meadow avenue and Fifth street a run was made by Company No. 5 and connections established in 5:15. Company No. 3 hiked from First street and Luella avenue to Fallowfield avenue and Fifth and established water connections in six minutes flat, an expecially good time. No. 6 company from Ninth and Meadow and No. 4 company from Ninth street and Fallowfield made remarkable runs, but there was a mixup on the time.

The practice was directed by Chief J. M. Fleming and other officers of the fire department.

MISS CHESTER'S RECITAL TO BE EVENT OF FRIDAY

Friday night is the date of a recital that will be given at the high school auditorium by Miss Mary Margaret Chester, reader, with Mrs. Floyd Chalfant, pianist. Miss Grace Chester and the high school girl's quartet as assistants. Miss Chester will appear in several readings. She is one of the best known readers and elocutionists in the upper Monongahela valley and for that reason her recital will draw well. Miss Chester received her education in Bethany college and the Curry school of elocution in Boston. She is arranging a well balanced program.

NEW CHEMICAL PLANT COMES TO THE MONONGAHELA VALLEY

CONTRACTS TO BE LET SOON

Company to Erect Buildings. First Money Having Been Paid on Site—No Bonus Asked—Company Well Established In the Claim

Money has been paid down on a factory site and prelimary arrangements made for locating a new Chemical plant of the Stauffer Chemical company in Monongahela. Deeds for the purchase of the site, which is owned by Robert H. Robinson, James R. McSteger and F. R. Corvin along Pigeon Creek will be prepared and signed by once, and within less than two weeks it is understood the contracts will be let for the erection of the Buildings of the company.

The company engages on the preparation of chemicals that are chiefly used in the manafacture of rubber and in the weaving of silk fibre. G. H. Stauffer of New York is president of the company and Albert Walker is general manager of the eastern division. Both these men were at Monongahela this week to put through the deal for the property. General Manager Walker expects to return within the next ten days to be on the ground to look after the construction of the plant.

The site purchased is cut from land along Pigeon Creek between the Monongahela Clay Manufacturing company's plant and the power house of the Catsburg mine. It was offered to the Stauffer company for $11,000, and $500 on the purchase price paid down Tuesday when the agreements of sale were signed.

The company has its main factories and works in San Francisco and its main offices in New York City. The Pittsburgh district has proven attractive to the company, which is the reason for their coming to this district. The concern is not a war factory, but according to Mr. Stauffer a permanent institution. Monongahela people maintain the concern is well established and a concern with a good reputation. No bonus is asked from Monongahela. When complete from 300 to 500 men will be employed.

BURGLARS ROB STORE OF H. H. DUVALL ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Brooms, Mops and Numerous Other Articles Taken by Thieves—Entrance Made at Rear of Store.

Burglars Sunday night entered and robbed the grocery store of H. H. Duvall on Fifth street for the second time since he has been in business here. About $100 worth of stock was taken. The matter was not reported to the police and Mr. Duvall has given the matter no publicity. Entrance was made at he rear of the building. An even dozen mops and an even dozen brooms were taken, together with a considerable quantity of sugar, cheese, coffee, cereals and coffee.

GIVE FIRST AID DEMONSTRATION

Ellsworth and Cokeburg Miners and Children Participate in Annual Event

RESCUE WORK IS THRILLING

An interesting and really remarkable demonstration of the practical results that are being accomplished in the first aid, mine rescue and sociological work being done by the Ellsworth Collieries company in its towns of Ellsworth and Cokeburg was given Tuesday at Ellsworth.

Although termed the fourth annual mine safety demonstration, it was far more, for besides the 300 miners from the three workings of the company, nearly 1,000 school children participated and the most inspiring sights of the day was when these children representing many nationalities marched in review with American flags waving to a patriotic march played by the band. The crowd was esimated at nearly 4,000.

First honors in the mine rescue and first aid demonstrations were won by Mine No. 1 workmen of whom J. Freeman is foreman. The scored a total of 1,457 points. But the competition was close and Mine No. 3 men, A. Roth foreman were second with 1,408 points and Mine No. 2, J. McNulty foreman in third place had 1,404 points. By winning first place Mine No. 1 secured possession of a beautiful cup offered by the Ellsworth Collieries company for one year, permanent possesion of which is secured when it is won three times by the same team. The cup and Red Cross medals and certificates were presented by Dr. Henry W. Temple of Washington.

Rescue demonstrations were made as realistic as possible. A mine entry and room, constructed of canvas, were shown. An explosion occurred and was followed by dense volumes of smoke and sheets of flames pouring from the mouth of the entry. The mine rescue squads were rushed on the field in an automobile packed helmets and other equipment packed in trunks. After the helmets had been put on, they were thoroughly tested as to the quality and capacity of their oxygen. Later they entered a smoke room before entering the supposed mine, to make certain foul air would not penetrate into the helmets. Assured that they were airtight, the rescurers then started into the mine, testing the air as they went and taking a life line with them.

E. E. Bach, superintendent of sociological and mine safety work at the Ellsworth and Cokeburg mines was in charge of the demonstration.

TRANSPORTATION AND HEALTH

Upon the health of the generations to come depends the prosperity of the Nation. Nature made us rich with coal, oil, lumber and fertile lands. These natural resources are fast becoming exhausted. We have spent our principle as if it was income and the time is approaching when we must live on those things which we produce by labor. Thus speaks State Health Commissioner Dixon in his weekly chat.

As the economic struggle becomes keener the strain upon the individual grows greater. The rapid development of our cities and the concentration of population in surroundings which are in many ways detrimental to health and which deviate so materially from those natural conditions for which man is accustomed by Nature have a weakening tendency.

The closely built up portions of our cities prevent the free movement of fresh air. The conditions of employment are largely affected and there is a tendency away from the natural methods of life which make for good health. To keep where we now stand in the scale of industry and morals, we must work for the proper housing and amusement of the workers.

As transportation made cities possible, so it must be and is being developed to carry the people into the suburbs at small cost. Here city workers' families may have individual homes with fresh air and they can raise a few vegetables and flowers The germinating seeds, the development of plants, the eternal miracle of nature's reproductive powers, offers wholesome occupation of interest to most men and women. As an amusement it is as much fun as playing golf and tennis and at the same time brings an income instead of being an expense. It may not be fashionable, but it has a deep appeal to the majority of mankind.

SHOULD STAND FIRM.

Never in the history of this country has it been more important for the Republicans to stand firmly and determinedly together than at the coming general election. The issues involved are not, of course, national, but the result is certain to have important national bearing.

Industrial conditions throughout the country have improved immensely. No effort is made to conceal that fact. And by the same token no effort should be made to credit the improved industrial conditions to the Democratic administration.

The foreign war alone is responsible. No industry that is not in some way contributing to the manufacture of war munitions is sharing in the remotest degree the prosperity that has come across the sea to those who are manufacturing deadly wares or supplies used exclusively by the waring nations. An ending of the murderous foreign war would bring an end to the "war orders" and without war orders industries would become stagnant, uncertain and idle, just as they were after the Democratic administration at Washington was inaugurated and before the foreign war broke out.

The economic policies of Democracy have failed miserably. They created a distrust and lack of confidence in business of every kind became oppressive and workmen in armies were thrown out of employment. The conditions became alarming to the employer and the employed. The foreign war has brought an improvement in trade conditions and improvement is more or less general. Where prosperity is found at present there also will be found busy mines and mills and war materials being turned out.

Sustaining the Republican policies of protection and prosperity at the coming fall election will guarantee the return of the Republican party to power in this nation and the return of the Republican party to power will mean a restoration of the policies of that party with an assurance of general prosperity.

It will serve the best interest of the entire country to sustain the Republican party at the polls in November.

That good crops should mean lower prices this year is the opinion of the Washington Observer, which says: "The nation's harvest this year as a whole is the largest and best on record. This means continued prosperity on a large scale in the agricultural districts. The wheat crop is estimated at 1,002,029,000 bushels or 111,000,000 bushels above the record crop of 1912. Corn is figured at 3,026,000,000 bushels or only 98,000,006 bushels below the record. Oats are expected to reach 1,517,000,000 bushels or 891,000,000 above last year. These three crops show an increase of about 20 per cent over the average of the last four years of about six per cent in acreage. Prices are lower but the farmers are sure of satisfactory results and the masses ought to secure cheaper food: while the railroads must benefit unusualy in the carrying of crops and in the stimulus to general business they afford."

Seven million Pennsylvanians took a holiday during the summer and attended some park or amusement resort, according to statistics gathered by the state health commissioner. More than this number took holidays that were not counted and went to points outside the state. In themselves the figures are worthless, but they indicate that in the busy life of the day we still gave attention to needed recreation.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Hoping to be the first to relate some unwelcome news, the youth rushed into the house and said:

"Father, I had a fight with Percy Raymond today."

"I know you did," replied the father soberly. "Mr. Raymond came to see me about it."

"Well," said the son, "I hope you came out as well as I did."—Ladies Home Journal.

Dr. William Lynd Stevenson, president of the Anti-Tipping league of Idaho, said at a league banquet in Boise:

"I visited New York last month. I put up at a fine hotel there—$4 a day, in fact for room and bath. But what service!

"I went into the hotel restaurant the evening of my arrival to order dinner. I ordered a simple enough dinner, according at least to our Idaho standards—a dinner of clams, cold consumme, grilled brook trout, filet of beef with mushrooms, chicken a la broche and so on—yes a simple enough Idaho dinner; but by jinks, they kept me waiting in the heat and noise and smells an unconscionable time. Unconscionable!

"Finally I called the maitre d'hotel and said:

"'Is it the rule to tip the waiter here?'

"'Yes, sir,' said the man. 'Oh yes, sir.'

"'Then,' said I, 'give me a good big tip. I've been waiting close on to three hours.'"

First Aid to the Backward.

Ingenuity of college students in writing badly after they have "passed off" the required freshman or sophomore course in composition is extraordinary. Perhaps it is a reassertion of native inaptness, perhaps it is sheer carelessness. But the remedy to be adopted at Harvard, after special study of the problem, is a patient one. A standing faculty committee is to be appointed, and "instructors in all courses will be urged to send to the committee any examination book, thesis or other piece of work which has demonstrated the writer's inability to express his thought." The committee will thereupon prescribe additional work in English for the delinquent students. The very warning should end mere slovenliness, and those whose fault lies deeper should be grateful for the discipline.—New York Evening Post.

Common Experience.

"As you travel through this vale of tears, is your faith in humanity strengthened or weakened?" asked the inquisitive person.

"It's a queer thing," answered the man who is easily worried. "I'll meet half a dozen people who are the right sort and strictly on the square. Then I'll run across a skunk who makes me forget all about the other six."

Dread Year of the Tiger.

The Year of the Tiger—1914 was so called in the Japanese calendar—foreboded calamity in the prophecies of that people. The Japan Chronicle notes that the ancient superstition is confirmed by the European war, beside which the volcanic eruption at Kagoshima was of trifling consequence.

A New York man advertised the other day for red-haired girls, and a woman writer asked him why he preferred girls with red hair. "Surely they are not prettier," she ventured to remark, "and the ages have not proved them better or brighter. In fact, they are noted for their tempers." "Well, it's this way," explained the employer. "There are so many brunettes and blondes, and when you have a red-haired girl in your office you feel as though you had a girl who is just a little different from the common run. Something exclusive." But are they different?" asked the woman. "No," said the man "But you always feel they are going to be" So the secret of the ages is solved.

The Japanese administration in Korea has been making strenuous endeavors to stamp out the housefly and its attendant ills, according to an official report received here. The American slogan of "Swat the Fly" was not considered sufficiently forcible to stimulate the oriental imagination, so the administration hit upon the idea of buying flies from the populace, using the slogan, "Sell the Fly." The official report, which is headlined "Purchase of Flies from Natives by Government Officials," does not state the price paid, or the result of the crusade

Luke McLuke Says:

The reason a man feels proud to be seen in a ringside seat at a prizefight is because he would hate to be seen in a rear seat at an uplift meeting.

A whole lot of married men have to use the rear entrances to their homes because their wives won't let them soil the "Welcome" on the doormat on the front porch.

A man often finds the surroundings of his home attractive. The trouble is that the "surroundings" are usually so far away from his home.

Once upon a time there was a banker who wrote his signature so plainly that you could tell what it meant. But he starved to death. People wouldn't trust him.

A boy can go barefooted six months out of the twelve and then wear out more shoes than a man who wears shoes all year around.

We once knew a pitcher who worked in eleven full games without giving a single base on balls. But every time he threw a chew of tobacco away he missed the spittoon.

It isn't always unbelief that causes a man to keep away from church. Maybe he had a church wedding when he was married.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.

2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Charleroi Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Charleroi people tell you how they act.

Mrs. B. Mahoney, 823 McKean avenue, Charleroi, says: "For a long time one of the family complained of pains across the back and any bending caused sharp twinges to dart through the body. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros. Drug Store soon relieved the pain in the back and brought benefit in every way. I have also taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they have helped me very much."

Message No. 1

To the Business Men of Charleroi

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend and Dutch Boy linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish. Consult your paint dealer on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.

ALL DENOMINATIONS ARE CO-OPERATING

All Missionary Interests Are Represented.

[illegible] of the [illegible] Laymen's Missionary Movement to arouse the spiritual [illegible] [illegible] those gone to their own communities. Many [illegible] [illegible] employed by different committees to give their whole time to the supervision and extension of the movement.

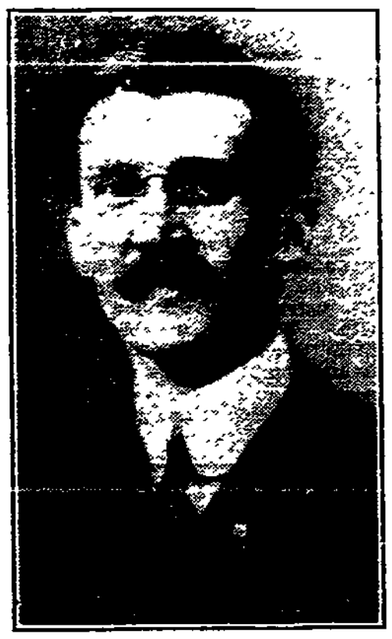
The Laymen's Missionary Movement has no membership and no organization apart from a series of committees. There is a general committee of approximately 100 laymen, which meets annually, giving general direction to the movement. There is an executive committee of twenty-five members which meets each month in New York city, giving closer supervision to the work. Eight division committees are being developed in the United States to give immediate direction to the work in their territory. Four of these division committees have each a secretary devoting his time to the extension of the work of the movement. In each separate city, community or county where work is undertaken a co-operating committee of the movement is organized to give it direction and assistance. Detailed suggestions have been prepared for the guidance and help of such committees.

It is worthy of note that the foreign mission offerings of the Protestant churches of this country, which in 1906, the year of the organization of the Laymen's Missionary Movement amounted to about eight millions, last year totaled seventeen and a quarter millions. About double that increase has been turned into the missionary and benevolent work of the church at home, and a larger proportion still goes to the work of the local churches. This is due largely to the adoption of the methods of church finance introduced and promoted by the movement and to the increasing interest of the money owners and money makers, the men of the churches in the church's great world work.

The movement has reached out to Great Britain, Australia and several countries of Europe till now its spirit and purpose have attained a worldwide reach.

The present world situation, in which two of the three great Protestant Christian powers are engaged in fratricidal strife, places an altogether unprecedented burden upon the Christian forces of this country to sustain and promote the world missionary enterprises of the church.

The Pittsburgh convention will be held in Exposition hall Oct. 24-27.



CHARLES G. TRUMBULL.

Editor Sunday School Times. Will address the Pittsburgh Convention Laymen's Missionary Movement (Exposition hall Oct. 24-27)

DR. FRED B. FISHER.

General secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the M. E. Church. Native of India; missionary to India. He will address the Pittsburgh Convention (Exposition hall, Oct. 24-27)

FINE PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION

High Class Speakers at Laymen's Missionary Movement.

LIKE NATIONAL MEETING.

Right Rev. L. L. Kinsolving, D. D., University of Pennsylvania; Colonel E. W. Halford, Secretary to President Harrison, and Charles G. Trumbull, Editor of Sunday School Times, Among Noted Speakers.

The program of the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention to be held at Exposition hall, Pittsburgh, Oct. 24-27, 1915, will be of the very highest quality and power, giving the [illegible] the character of a national meeting which men would cross a continent to attend, now by this fine co-operation in team work brought to the very doors of the men of the city and vicinity.

The following are some of the speakers who will be present:

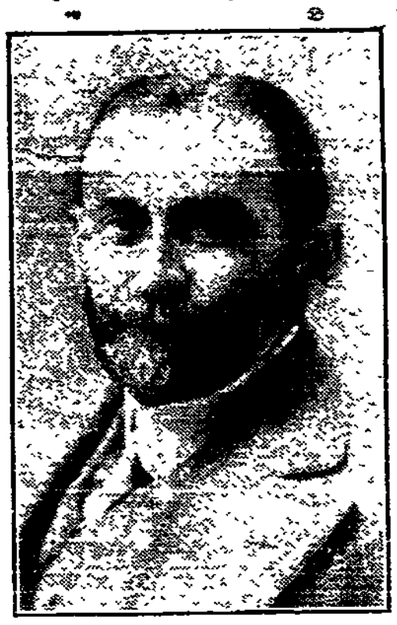
Halford to Address Convention.

Colonel Elijah W. Halford, secretary to President Harrison from 1889-93, knows missions from a close personal observation in the Philippines, where he resided as paymaster of the United States army from 1901-3.

Mr. Charles G. Trumbull is editor of the Sunday School Times. The recital of his recent wonderful experience in the Christian life has profoundly impressed and helped a multitude of people. He will speak on "The Victorious Christian Life."

Mr. W. G. A. Millar, the purchasing agent of the American Bridge company, Pittsburgh, will give his Sundays to the campaign. He tells a most arresting story of how a purchasing agent can handle gospel goods successfully.

Rev. James McNaughton of Turkey will give some thrilling tales of recent events in the near east. He speaks out of a lifelong experience in the Turkish empire.



DR. RUDOLPH B. TEUSLER.

Medical missionary to Japan. Will address Pittsburgh Convention Laymen's Missionary Movement (Exposition hall, Oct. 24-27)

Other prominent speakers will be Dr. John R. Harding, Dr. J. Dixon, Rev. J. E. Crowther, Rev. W. I. Johnston and Mr. Nolan R. Best.

Mr. J. Campbell White was for ten years secretary of the Young Men's Christian association at Calcutta, India. Since the origin of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in 1906 he has led the most remarkable missionary development of modern times. He will preside at the Pittsburgh convention. Mr. White has recently become president of the University of Wooster, Wooster, O.

Dr. Fred B. Fisher, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist Episcopal church, north, will be associated with Mr. White in the leadership of the convention team.

Some of the Topics.

"What Must America Do Under the New World Conditions?"

"Is a Victorious Christian Life Possible and Obligatory?"

When We Work Best.

Autumn and spring are the best seasons of the year for all kinds of work. At a very low temperature both mental and physical work are depressing. Mental work reaches its highest efficiency at a temperature of 38 degrees while physical work reaches its maximum at 59 degrees for men and 60 degrees for women Recent investigations show that weather variations are distinctly good for us and promote our mental efficiency

To Make Bandages.

Bandages can be prepared from the good parts of worn sheets or pillow slips if perfectly clean. Rolls six to eight yards in length are most convenient—one inch wide for fingers, two inches for feet, two and one-half to three inches for head and arms and four inches for legs. A good way of keeping them in condition for use is to seal the rolls in a perfectly clean glass fruit jar

Dangerous Method.

"What are your usual modes of punishment?" was among the questions submitted to a teacher in a rural district in Ohio. Her answer was, "I try moral suasion first, and if that does not work I use capital punishment.' As it was a neighborhood where moral suasion had not been a success, and the children were scarce, the committee took no risks.

Her Own Business.

The charming young woman who expected to be married soon, went to the registration book for the first time. The man in charge asked: "With what party do you expect to be affiliated?" "That's none of your business," she replied. "If I have to tell his name I'm not going to register, so there."

Reason for Her Social Prominence.

"Eh-yan!" said the landlord of the tavern at Polkville, Ark., in reply to the question of the Kansas City drummer. "The lady that just passed is one of our most prominent society leaders. She's already caused four men to be shot, and as you saw, she's still medium young and considerable handsome."

Expert in Silver Linings.

Hall—"Blythe is a pretty optimistic character, I hear." Wall—"I should say so. If he failed in business, he'd thank heaven he had his health; if he failed in health, he'd thank heaven he had his business, and if he failed in both, he'd say there was no use having one without the other."

Brooklyn Navy Yard.

The Brooklyn navy yard was established February 23, 1801, when the first land, twenty-three acres, was bought from one John Jackson for $40,000. The yard now comprises 144 acres and has a water front of nearly three miles. protected by a sea wall of granite.

Price of Drugs Fixed.

The German government has for years fixed the retail price of drugs even to the extent of designating what must be charged for bottle. cork, label or ointment box used in dispensing the medicine.

Why Vaccination Pays.

Statistics show that to vaccinate a person against smallpox at public expense costs about twenty-five cents, while the disease itself costs the public on an average about $50 per case.

Woman's Advantage.

"Women undergo greater trials than men." True, fair one, but no matter whom they have murdered there's always an acquittal or a hung jury.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Self-Righteous.

Power of the Individual.

If only one person—you—makes up his mind to do his best for the meeting, from that nucleus the contagion of best-doing will spread through the society.

Easy Case to Conduct.

Show Respect for Bee.

Attention is called to the fact that no one ever seems to think of a bee as a bug. Insect is about the worst thing they are ever called.

TOURING THE WORLD RIDING HIS BICYCLE

Austrian Youth Must Ride Long Distance in Every Country Within Period of 25 Years to Win What is Approximately $5,300

Attired in a Tyrolean costume with a touch of Scotch dress, Hubert A. A. H. VonPelt arrived here this morning on a side jaunt from his tour of the world. He will be at the Majestic theatre this afternoon and evening. He has a number of slides taken during his trip and these will be shown on the screen. He left Vienna, Austria, alone on a wager of 25,000 Kronen or about $5,300 to be given by the leading newspaper of that city and will tour the entire world.

He was born in Vienna Sept 5, 1892 in the largest circus ring of the world. His parents were then employed as circus performers. His father bore the title, Edler Joseph Von Pelt. In 1913 his parentts died and

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert A. H. Von Pelt

Hubert fell in the hands of the publishing company, so they gave him a chance to make a big sum of money by touring 10,000 kilometer in every country on the globe in 25 years and a start without money. He can neither beg nor sell anything for a stated price, nor work for a salary and must pay his own expenses. He is traveling by bicycle.

Von Pelt says: "When I reached Pittsburg I met Miss Lauretta Moldausch, a real Austrian girl born in Allegheny. She is 17 years old and seven months ago graduated from a Pittsburg High school. At the time of our meeting she was taking a course in business college and to pay for her schooling she worked nights as a cashier in a theatre where I met her on the first day of my arrival in Pittsburg. Two weeks later we secured a marriage license and were married at her home." Van Pelt's wife is now in Pittsburg.

Von Pelt says he never drank a drop of anykind in his life and never smoked a cigaret.

CAMPBELL EXONERATED ENTIRELY FROM BLAME

R. H. Campbell of North Charleroi was entirely exonerateed of blame in connection with the burning of P. C. Teeple's automobile from Monongahela a few days ago on the Elizabeth road. There was absolutely no evidence against Mr. Campbell and officers could hardly explain themselves in just what way they attached his name to the affair.

PLAINTIFF MAKES HIS MOCK TRIAL STATEMENT

Alleged That Automobile Was Stolen Hence Reason for Placing W. D. Pollock and Rev. W. G. Mead Under Accusation October 22.

The statement of the commonwealth, so to speak, has been filed in the mock trial case to be heard at the high school auditorium Friday evening, October 22, under the auspices of the Good Will Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The claim is made that on Friday night, September 17, 1915 W. D. Pollock and Rev. W. G. Mead by John H. Frye. It is charged that the defendants removed without any authority this touring car and went for what is commonly known as a joy ride. It is also charged that the defendants were both incompetent drivers, that they did not have licenses to drive from the State Highway Department of thecommonwealth and therefore were in strict violation of the Act of the General Assembly approved July 7, 1913. It is further charged that they recklessly incompetently and dangerously operated the said touring car, damaging the same beyond repair. It is further averred by the prosecutor that by reason of the theft of the car and escapade of the said defendants, W. D. Pollock and Rev. Wesley G. Mead, that he, the prosecutor was compelled to walk home and that he suffered mentally and physically as a result.

John S. Rodgers, Esq. will preside as judge and the prosecuing attorneys will be Thomas Warrensford and W. Ray Kent. The attorneys for the defense will be William Milliken and H. J. Booth. The clerk will be Ralph J. White; sheriff, Louis J. Mitchell; court stenographer, Prof. Russell Carell; the tipstaffs, Harry R. Frye. Lawrence B. Frye and the court crier, Jesse Wagoner.
